

Planner (Consultant)
Martenson & Eisele, Inc.

We are looking for a planner with experience in comprehensive planning, farmland preservation planning, zoning and other land development ordinances (writing and administering), and tax increment districts. A must-have credential is to be able to facilitate public meetings with plan commissions, town and village boards, and city councils. In addition to planning and community development skills, we are seeking a planner who has the ability to perform business development activities.

The title and compensation will depend on the planner's qualifications. We are open to hiring a planner with just a few years experience. We are also open to hiring a planner with many years of experience. The opportunity to be a member of the Leadership Team at Martenson & Eisele, Inc. is available to the right individual.
